

Ashley Steenberger is a Project Manager for the Texas Child Mental Health Care Consortium. Before joining UT System, she oversaw a statewide early childhood focused program evaluation project. Ashley's experience encompasses work in both the private and public health sector, including state and county health departments. She's worked in clinical research coordination as well as on various maternal and child health projects including state-wide maternal health quality improvement initiatives and community and clinical based coalition efforts to improve birth outcomes. Ashley completed her Bachelor of Science in Public Health and Master of Public Health with a concentration in Community Health Education from Baylor University.

Ashley Steenberger, MPH, CHES

Contact: asteenberger@utsystem.edu